Silicon Valley Roundtable—March 2007 Meeting

*Tuesday, March 13, Noon, Menlo Park Library****

Topic: International Finance in the Post-9/11 World

Speaker: John Taylor, Professor Economics, Stanford University

John B. Taylor is the Mary and Robert Raymond Professor of Economics at Stanford University as well as the Bowen H. and Janice Arthur McCoy Senior Fellow at the Hoover Institute. His academic fields of expertise are macroeconomics, modern monetary economics, and international economics.

Taylor is currently a member of the California Governor's Council of Economic Advisors, where he also previously served from 1996 to 1998. In the past, he served as senior economist on the President's Council of Economic Advisers from 1976 to 1977, as a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers from 1989 to 1991. He was also a member of the Congressional Budget Office's Panel of Economic Advisers from 1995 to 2001. For four years from 2001 to 2005, Taylor served as Under Secretary of Treasury for International Affairs where he was responsible for U.S. policies in international finance, which includes currency markets, trade in financial services, foreign investment, international debt and development, and oversight of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank. He was also responsible for coordinating financial policy with the G-7 countries, was chair of the working party on international macroeconomics at the OECD, and was a member of the Board of the Overseas Private Investment Corporation.

His book Global Financial Warriors: The Untold Story of International Finance in the Post-9/11 World chronicles his years as head of the international division at Treasury.
